EASTER INSPIRATION

We had a truly uplifting week over Easter sharing Zoom Services with neighbouring congregations, giving out the crochet & crafter hearts to passers-by on the Friday and with the wonderful daffodil cross featuring outside the church on Sunday. In the service Louis, who is studying Health Management at Napier University, shared Easter customs from her home in India and spoke of working in dentistry for a health NGO serving a poor community in the north of India.

LOOKING AHEAD

We look to grow and share our faith

We now look ahead as we off an Alpha Course on Zoom starting on Monday 26th April. This is a great way for people to bring questions about life and faith and to build up deeper friendship. We hope that folk in Willowbrae can be involved as that would be an encouraging as we look to grow together over the months ahead.

Holding
all in prayer!

The Cross transformed on Sunday morning!

Daffodil crosses outside both Meadowbank & Willowbrae

Just as our large wooden cross was transformed on Easter Sunday morning we look to have our lives radically changed by that same power of God's love which raised Jesus to new life.
May we see resurrection NOW in our lives, our homes, our community, our country and our world

Alpha is run all over Scotland and beyond!

Meadowbank Alpha On-line

Our organising group have been working hard to make sure that we can offer a really positive experience for our own folk and for new people who might want to join in

We are grateful to Fiona, Yvonne, Isobel, Elaine and Jackie who are leading on this and will have Edmund providing the technical backup

Why not give it a go?

Pause Netflix, Try Alpha

Alpha on-line has proved to be a really good way of helping people look at some of life's big questions.
